

London, UK – 8th January 2006 – for immediate release

StressTester™ enables Tescom (UK) Software Systems Testing Ltd. to offer new and enhanced enterprise level performance testing services

Tescom (UK) has today signed a partnership with Reflective Solutions, to provide new added-value testing services, utilising Reflective Solutions' StressTester™ enterprise-class performance and functional testing software.

Tescom (UK)'s Test Automation Group Manager, Marco Venzelaar, stated at the partnership press announcement; "Tescom (UK) has chosen to partner with Reflective Solutions to provide an enhanced performance testing service to our clients. As an independent consultancy, Tescom (UK) will be able increase its flexibility by using StressTester™ which will allow us to engage with a wider variety of clients to execute performance testing throughout all industry sectors in the United Kingdom".

He added "StressTester™ was very easy to get to grips with. After the briefest of sessions we were up and running quickly. We also like the StressTester™ licensing model which allows us to offer better value to our clients - we can now ramp simulated users as high as needed during testing at no additional cost to our clients".

Graham Parsons, Reflective Solutions CEO, reflected that: "We are very excited to be able to partner with Tescom (UK) and our two companies will be working closely together to continue to change the face of performance testing in the UK. Tescom (UK)'s approach to performance testing is refreshing and StressTester™ will allow them to add more value to customer projects by meeting customer objectives more quickly, whilst reducing capital expenditure".

Simon Atkinson, Vice President of Sales for Tescom (UK) commented "Tescom are continually looking to broaden our service offerings in line with our clients' requirements. In line with that approach, we are pleased to be entering into this partnership with Reflective Solutions, as it adds a new layer of value to our high-quality performance testing service. Reflective Solutions has an innovative approach to the use of performance tools which made the decision to partner with them a very easy one to take".

Tescom joins a growing list of European Testing Consultancy companies who are finding that the ease-of-use and fair licensing of StressTester™ means that performance testing is no longer a complex and expensive exercise.

About Reflective Solutions Limited.

Reflective Solutions is a specialist consultancy providing performance services and products that support their clients throughout the lifecycle of their projects. The only focus is to ensure their clients, which include AXA, BMI, BP, JP Morgan, Friends Provident and Legal and General, have optimally performing applications, while at the same time, reduce their hardware and software license costs. Visit www.stresstester.net.

About Tescom (UK) Software Systems Testing Ltd.

Tescom (UK) is a global leader in independent software quality assurance and testing solutions with over 600 professionals around the world dedicated to helping companies mitigate the technological risks inherent to the development, implementation and integration of software and information technology applications. Founded in 1990, Tescom is a public company (LSE:TSCM) that maintains operations in Australia, France, Israel, Singapore, the United States and the United Kingdom. Visit www.tescom-intl.com.